2 I. INTRODUCTION

3 Plaintiffs HOLLY ATTIA, ROSHANAK BASTI, NILOOFAR 4 ESHAGHBEIGI, MICHELLE GIRARD, ELISE KELLEY, KIM MARCONI, 5 ISABEL ROMERO, DAVID TOLBERT, and XUAN HIEN NGUYEN,<sup>1</sup> on behalf 6 of themselves and all others similarly situated, bring this motion to seek preliminary 7 approval and conditional certification of a non-reversionary wage and hour class 8 action settlement of $4,400,000 (“Gross Settlement Amount” or “GSA”) by and 9 between the Parties to this civil action (the “Action”). The Joint Stipulation of Class 10 Action Settlement (“Settlement”) entered into by the parties provides certain and 11 substantial relief to the estimated 2,086 persons employed by Defendant The Neiman
12 Marcus Group LLC (erroneously named The Neiman Marcus Group, Inc.)
13 (“Defendant” or “NMG”) in its full-line California stores and who were compensated 14 in full or in part on a commission or piece rate basis during the Class Period (May 1, 15 2014 to the date of preliminary approval) or Expense Reimbursement Subclass 16 Period (December 31, 2011 to the date of preliminary approval). Declaration of 17 James R. Hawkins (“Hawkins Decl.”) ¶ 19. Note, that as of the filing of this Motion, 18 Plaintiffs Marconi and Tolbert have not signed the Settlement Agreement as they 19 have requested additional time for review. Plaintiffs have proceeded with the filing 20 of this motion with the signatures of the other seven representatives and will seek to 21 supplement the record to include Marconi’s and Tolbert’s signatures should they later 22 sign the Agreement.

23 An objective evaluation of the Settlement confirms that the relief negotiated 24 on behalf of the Class/Subclass is fair, reasonable, and valuable. The Parties 25 negotiated the Settlement at arm's length with the guidance of David Rotman, a 26 highly respected and experienced wage and hour class action mediator, over the 27 course of three mediation sessions. The proposed relief provides certain and valuable

28 <sup>1</sup> The proposed Second Amended Complaint provides for the addition of Plaintiff Nguyen to the Attia Action and for the correction of the name of the proper defendant.

1 relief to the Class/Subclass in the near future without requiring the Class/Subclass to 2 wait possibly years and bear the risk of class certification being denied or of 3 Defendant prevailing at trial.

4 As discussed in detail below, Plaintiffs seek approval of the proposed 5 settlement as fair, reasonable and adequate and ask the Court to set dates for 6 providing notice of settlement, requests for exclusion or objection, a final approval 7 and fee hearing date, along with a briefing schedule.

8 II. THE PARTIES, THE CLASS, AND THE SUBCLASS

9 A. Plaintiffs

10 Plaintiffs worked as retail sales associates for Defendant in its full-line stores 11 in California. Specifically, all Plaintiffs worked at the store in Newport Beach, 12 California during the period between December 31, 2011 and October 2015. Ms.
13 Girard also worked at the Beverly Hills, California store during her employment.
14 Plaintiffs were compensated in full or in part on a commission or piece rate basis, 15 and are part of the putative Class and Subclass. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 17.

16 B. Defendant

17 NMG is a Delaware limited liability company, with its headquarters in Dallas, 18 Texas. NMG is a luxury retailer that offers upscale apparel, accessories, jewelry, 19 beauty and decorative home products in seven full-line stores in California: Beverly 20 Hills, Newport Beach, Palo Alto, San Diego, San Francisco, Topanga and Walnut 21 Creek. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 18.

22 C. The Settlement Class and Subclass

23 Plaintiffs seek conditional certification of a Class defined as “All persons 24 currently or formerly employed by The Neiman Marcus Group LLC (“NMG”) at 25 Defendant’s full-line department stores in California as employees who were 26 compensated in full or in part on a commission or piece rate basis, at any time during 27 the period from May 1, 2014 through the date of preliminary approval” (the “Class” 28 or “Settlement Class”). The Settlement Class is estimated to include 1,620

1 individuals. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 19(a).

2 Plaintiffs also seek conditional certification of an Expense Reimbursement 3 Subclass defined as: “All persons currently or formerly employed by NMG at 4 Defendant’s full-line department stores in California as employees who were 5 compensated in full or in part on a commission or piece rate basis, at any time during 6 the period from December 31, 2011 through the date of preliminary approval.” (“The 7 Expense Reimbursement Subclass.”) The Expense Reimbursement Subclass is 8 estimated to include 2,086 individuals. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 19(b).

9 The membership of the two classes is coextensive, except the Expense 10 Reimbursement Subclass dates back to December 13, 2011. There are an estimated 11 2,086 unique members of the Class and Subclass combined. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 20.

12 D. The Monjaze Settlement

13 In or about 2014, NMG entered into an agreement to settle certain wage and 14 hour claims, asserted in the action entitled Monjaze v. The Neiman Marcus Group, 15 Inc., San Francisco Superior Court case no. CGC 10 502877, on behalf of “all non-16 exempt (hourly paid) employees of Neiman Marcus, and all commission sales 17 associates of Neiman Marcus throughout the State of California, including but not 18 limited to those working or who worked in the full-line retail stores, outlet stores 19 (“Last Call” stores), “The Cusp” retail store, and the Service Center, at any time from 20 August 20, 2006 through April 30, 2014” for a maximum settlement amount of 21 $3,500,000.00. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 21, Ex. 2. As relevant here, by operation of the 22 Monjaze settlement agreement and final judgment, Plaintiffs and the members of 23 the putative Class and Subclass released all claims asserted in this action for the 24 period including and prior to April 30, 2014, except claims arising under Labor Code 25 section 2802 for unpaid business expenses. Id.

26 III. PROCEDURAL AND LITIGATION HISTORY

27 On December 31, 2015, Plaintiffs Attia, Basti, Eshaghbeigi, Girard, Kelley, 28 Marconi, Romero, and Tolbert, on behalf of themselves and all others similarly

1 situated, filed their class action complaint in the Superior Court of the State of 2 California, County of Orange, against Defendant NMG, titled Attia, et al. v. The 3 Neiman Marcus Group, Inc., Case No. 30-2015-00827743-CU-OE-CXC. The class 4 action complaint asserted causes of action for: (1) failure to pay hourly wages and 5 overtime wages; (2) failure to pay minimum wages, (3) failure to provide rest periods 6 and meal periods or compensation in lieu thereof, (4) failure to indemnify necessary 7 expenses, (5) failure to timely pay wages due at separation, (6) knowing and 8 intentional failure to comply with itemized employee wage statement provisions, and 9 (7) violations of the Unfair Competition Law. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 2. On February 11, 10 2016, Plaintiffs filed a first amended complaint (“FAC”) to add a claim under the 11 Private Attorneys’ General Act of 2004, Labor Code § 2698 et seq. Id., ¶ 3. On 12 March 17, 2016, NMG filed its answer to the FAC. Id., ¶ 4. NMG denied and 13 continues to deny any liability and wrongdoing of any kind associated with the claims 14 in the Action, and further denies that this Action is appropriate for class treatment for 15 any purpose other than this Settlement. Id. NMG removed the Attia Action to this 16 Court on March 17, 2016. (Doc. No. 1.<sup>2</sup>)

17 On June 1, 2016, Plaintiff Nguyen filed a PAGA-only action in the Superior 18 Court for the County of Orange, entitled Nguyen v. The Neiman Marcus Group, Inc., 19 Case No. 30-2016-00855622-CU-OE-CXC, asserting wage and hour claims against 20 NMG as to aggrieved employees consisting of non-exempt employees working in 21 sales. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 6. NMG filed a motion to dismiss or stay the Nguyen action 22 pending completion of the Attia action, based on its contention that the Nguyen action 23 alleged substantially identical claims on behalf of the same class covered in the Attia 24 action. The Superior Court granted the motion. Id.

25 Defendant filed a motion to compel arbitration in the Attia action on April 26 20, 2016. The matter was fully briefed and the Court granted that motion on 27 June 27, 2016. (Doc. No. 16.) On September 8, 2016, Plaintiffs filed a motion 28

1 for reconsideration of the Order on the motion to compel arbitration. (Doc. No.
2 17.) On October 18, 2016, the Court granted Plaintiffs' motion. (Doc. No. 25.)
3 On November 16, 2016, NMG filed a notice of appeal to the Ninth Circuit Court 4 of Appeals from the order granting Plaintiffs' motion for reconsideration. (Doc.
5 No. 28.) On April 10, 2017, the Ninth Circuit granted Defendant's unopposed 6 motion to stay the appeal pending the United States Supreme Court's decision in 7 Ernst & Young v. Morris, docket no. 16-300.

8 The parties had their initial Scheduling Conference on November 28, 2016, 9 and thereafter this Court issued a Scheduling Order Regulating Discovery and 10 Other Pre-Trial Proceedings on November 29, 2016. (Doc. No. 26, 33.) On 11 December 14, 2016, the Court issued an order appointing Hon. James L. Smith (Ret.)
12 as Special Master in the action. (Doc. No. 35.)

13 On February 14, 2017, the parties engaged in a full-day private mediation with 14 respected wage and hour mediator David Rotman in San Francisco. Hawkins Decl.
15 ¶ 27(a). The parties did not reach a settlement at mediation, but agreed to continue 16 discussions with the assistance of Mr. Rotman. Id.

17 On March 23, 2017, Plaintiffs filed a motion for leave to file a Second 18 Amended Complaint ("SAC") in the action. (Doc. No. 43.). On April 24, 2017, the 19 Court issued an order denying that motion. (Doc. No. 54.)

20 On April 14, 2017, Plaintiffs filed their Motion for Class Certification seeking 21 to certify a class of: "All individuals employed at Defendant's full-line department 22 stores in California who were paid a draw versus commission from May 1, 2014 23 through the time of trial." (Doc. No. 49.) Defendant opposed the motion on June 13, 24 2017. (Doc No. 55.) On June 20, 2017, Plaintiffs filed their reply. (Doc. No. 59.)
25 On the same date, the Court issued an order to show cause why the case should not 26 be stayed pending the Supreme Court's decision in Morris. (Doc. No. 58.) The parties 27 subsequently stipulated to stay the case pending the Supreme Court's ruling. (Doc.
28 No. 60.)

1 On September 5, 2017, the parties engaged in a second full day of mediation 2 with Mr. Rotman. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 27(b). The case did not settle at mediation, but 3 the parties continued settlement efforts with the mediator's assistance. Id. Despite 4 such continued discussions, the parties were unable to reach an agreement, but agreed 5 to a third day of mediation with Mr. Rotman. Id. The parties attended a third day of 6 mediation with Mr. Rotman on December 1, 2017. Id., ¶ 27(c). After the mediation, 7 the parties continued negotiations and Mr. Rotman issued a mediator's proposal for 8 resolution of the action. Id. The Settlement is the product of such mediator's 9 proposal, and extensive arm's length negotiations between the parties to finalize the 10 terms of the long-form Settlement Agreement. The material terms were realized 11 only after extensive negotiations consisting of numerous telephone conferences 12 and e-mail exchanges between counsel for the parties. Id. ¶ 27(c).

13 In conjunction with the Settlement Agreement, the parties stipulated to file 14 a Second Amended Complaint to, inter alia, correct the name of the Defendant, 15 and add Ms. Nguyen as a Plaintiff in the Attia action. A true and correct copy of 16 the proposed Second Amended Complaint is attached as Exhibit A to the 17 Settlement Agreement and incorporated herein by reference. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 29.

18 IV. INVESTIGATION AND DISCOVERY

19 Plaintiffs' counsel conducted a lengthy and thorough investigation into the 20 merits of Plaintiffs' class action claims and Defendants' asserted defenses prior 21 to entering into the Settlement Agreement. Hawkins Decl. ¶¶ 22, 42. Plaintiffs' 22 counsel reviewed several thousand pages of documents and records produced by 23 the Plaintiffs in support of their claims, including handbooks, compensation 24 policies and plans, payroll records, wage statements, and emails. The documents 25 were reviewed, summarized, and discussed in detail with Plaintiffs before 26 preparing the Complaint. Id. ¶ 22(a).

27 The parties exchanged their initial FRCP disclosures on December 7, 2016 28 pursuant to Rule 26 identifying, among other things, witnesses and documents

1 with information relevant to Plaintiffs and the class claims. Id., ¶ 22(b).

2 On November 30, 2016, Plaintiffs served their first set of discovery
3 requests, including interrogatories and requests for production of documents. Id., 4 ¶ 22(c). On December 27, 2016, Plaintiffs served Defendant with a Rule 30(b)(6) 5 deposition notice. Id., ¶ 22(d). On January 12, 2017, Plaintiffs served a second 6 set of requests for production and an amended Rule 30(b)(6) notice. Id., ¶ 22(e).
7 On February 9, 2017, Plaintiffs served a third set of written discovery requests, 8 including requests for admissions and interrogatories. Id., ¶ 22(f). Plaintiffs sent 9 out a second set of requests for admissions on or about March 29, 2017. Id., ¶ 22(g).
10 Defendants produced over forty thousand pages of documents in response to 11 Plaintiffs' requests for production, including handbooks, meal period waivers, 12 tracking forms, timekeeping adjustment records, schedules, store and class 13 information, policies, payroll records, wage statements, time records, commission 14 reports, and the class list. Id., ¶ 22(h). The documents and discovery responses were 15 reviewed and summarized. The parties met and conferred extensively, by phone and 16 by email, to discuss the documents produced and ensure that the relevant information 17 and documentation was provided. Id., ¶ 22(i).

18 In addition to the extensive written discovery, Plaintiffs' counsel took the 19 Rule 30(b)(6) deposition of Nina Kern, Vice President of Associate Relations for 20 NMG. Hawkins Decl., ¶ 22(j). Plaintiffs' counsel also took the depositions of 21 Human Resources Manager Teresa Cutright and Vice President and General 22 Manager Leyla Vokhshoori. Id., ¶ 22(k).

23 In addition to the investigation and formal discovery described above, the 24 parties exchanged documents and information to prepare for mediation. NMG 25 produced additional data allowing the parties to analyze and calculate alleged 26 damages. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 23. Plaintiffs also worked closely with counsel to provide 27 information to prepare for mediation. Id. Plaintiffs retained expert consultants to 28 manage and analyze NMG's time and pay data and assist with the preparation of a

1 model of potential exposure to damages. This involved formatting, integrating, and 2 analyzing multiple datasets, representing nearly 380,000 shifts. Id. This data was 3 used to prepare a comprehensive mediation brief and damages analysis, for the claims 4 and the classes Plaintiffs sought to represent, including calculations of the alleged 5 amount of unpaid regular and overtime wages, unreimbursed expenses, meal and rest 6 period violations, premium pay, and statutory and civil penalties. Id.

7 V. SETTLEMENT

8 The parties reached the Settlement only after extensive investigation, 9 research, discovery, damages analysis, and three days of mediation and several 10 months of subsequent arm's length negotiations with the assistance of mediator 11 David Rotman, to finalize the long form settlement agreement. The proposed 12 Settlement is memorialized in the Joint Stipulation of Class Action Settlement, 13 Exhibit 1 to the Hawkins Declaration. Hawkins Decl. ¶¶22-27, Ex. 1.

14 VI. SUMMARY OF PROPOSED SETTLEMENT

15 A. Terms of the Settlement

16 The Parties have agreed (subject to approval of this Court), that the class 17 claims be settled and compromised for the Gross Settlement Amount ("GSA") of 18 $4,400,000.00, no part of which may revert to Defendant, and which sum includes 19 (a) Settlement Class/Subclass Members' Individual Settlement Payments; (b) Class 20 Representative Enhancement Payments of $7,000 each to Plaintiffs Attia, 21 Eshaghbeigi, Girard, Kelley, Nguyen, and Romero, and $5,000 each to Plaintiffs 22 Basti, Marconi, and Tolbert, in consideration for their services in this action; (c)
23 payment of $640,000 to the Labor and Workforce Development Agency for PAGA
24 penalties, with 75% ($480,000) being paid to the LWDA and 25% ($160,000) for pro
25 rata distribution to the participating Settlement Class Members; (d) Settlement 26 Administrator expenses to CPT Group, Inc. of up to $35,000, to provide notice of the 27 Settlement to the Class and for settlement administration services; (e) attorneys' fees 28 of up to $1,466,666.67 (33.33% of GSA) to compensate Class Counsel for work

1 performed and all work remaining to be performed in documenting and 2 administrating the settlement and securing final Court approval; and (f) Counsel’s 3 litigation costs of up to $140,000.00. Hawkins Decl. ¶30. In addition to the GSA, 4 NMG will separately pay the employer’s share of payroll taxes. Id.

5 After all Court-approved deductions, the remaining Net Settlement Amount 6 (“NSA”) estimated at $2,221,332.33 (of which $39,600 is allocated to the Expense 7 Reimbursement Subclass Allocation), will be distributed to all Settlement 8 Class/Subclass Members in Individual Settlement Payments based proportionately 9 on the number of weeks each Class/Subclass Member was employed by NMG during 10 the respective class and subclass periods in relation to the total number of weeks 11 Settlement Class/Subclass members were employed by NMG during the class and 12 subclass periods. Hawkins Decl. ¶¶ 30, 35-37.

13 Following Final Approval and the Effective Date of the Settlement, each 14 Class/Subclass Member who did not submit a timely request to be excluded will be 15 mailed a payment for his or her proportionate share of the NSA/Subclass Allocation 16 without the need to submit a claim form. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 38.

17 The non-reversionary nature of the Settlement guarantees that any amounts 18 not distributed to the Settlement Administrator for administration costs, to Class 19 Counsel for fees and costs, or to Class Representatives for Enhancement Payments, 20 will be reallocated to the Net Settlement Amount and distributed among the 21 Participating Class Members. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 31. In other words, no portion of the 22 Settlement will revert to Defendants under any circumstances. Id. To the extent 23 there are any uncashed or undeliverable Settlement Payment checks 120 calendar 24 days after issuance, such uncashed/undeliverable amounts will be sent to cy pres 25 recipient Boys & Girls Clubs of America, to be distributed equally across the local 26 chapters of the Boys and Girls Club for the counties of Los Angeles, San Diego, 27 Newport Beach, Contra Costa, Peninsula, and San Francisco. Id., ¶ 41.

28 B. Settlement Administration and Notice to the Class

1 The proposed Settlement Administrator, CPT Group, Inc., has extensive 2 experience in the settlement administration of wage-hour class actions like this one, 3 having administered many class action settlements. See www.cptgroup.com. The 4 settlement administration costs are estimated to be less than $35,000. Hawkins Decl., 5 ¶ 30(f). CPT Group will conduct a search of the National Change of Address 6 database to update Class/Subclass Member addresses, and will mail to each 7 Class/Subclass Member identified on the Class List prepared by Defendant a Notice
8 of Class Action Settlement (“Notice”), Change of Address Form, and pre-printed 9 return envelope (collectively “Notice Packet”). Hawkins Decl. ¶ 32; Ex. 1, Settlement 10 Agreement, Exhibit B – Notice, Exhibit C - Change of Address Form.

11 The content of the proposed Notice fully complies with due process and 12 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23. The Notice provides Class/Subclass Members 13 with specifics concerning (1) how to exercise their rights and make informed 14 decisions regarding whether or not to participate in the Settlement; (2) how individual 15 recoveries will be determined and the amount of their estimated individual Settlement 16 Payment; (3) that no claim form will be required to receive the Settlement Payment; 17 (4) the amounts requested for attorney’s fees, costs, class representative enhancement 18 payments, and administrator costs; (5) that a current address must be kept on file with 19 the administrator to receive their payment; (6) how to object to the settlement and the 20 deadline to do so; (7) how to request exclusion from the settlement and the deadline 21 to do so; (8) the claims they will be releasing if they choose to remain in the 22 Settlement Class/Subclass; (9) the date, time, and place of the Final Approval 23 hearing, and how to appear at the hearing; (10) the toll-free telephone and fax 24 numbers of the Settlement Administrator, and where they may view relevant 25 documents concerning the lawsuit and settlement. Hawkins Decl., ¶ 33; Ex. 1, Ex. B 26 - Notice. The proposed Notice is more than adequate to put Class/Subclass Members 27 on notice of the Settlement Agreement. See, e.g., Mendoza v. Tucson School Dist.
28 No. 1, 623 F.2d 1338, 1351 (9th Cir. 1980) (“very general description of

1 the...settlement” satisfies standards).

2 The formula for calculating individual Settlement Payments, based on the 3 number of weeks each Class/Subclass Member was employed as a Class/Subclass 4 Member during the Class and Subclass Period, provides a fair and adequate 5 method of distribution of the Settlement proceeds to Class Members. This 6 information is readily available from Defendant’s records, and the Settlement 7 Administrator can apply the formula in a fair and transparent manner. This 8 method represents the fairest method of distribution to Class Members and does 9 not grant preferential treatment to any Members. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 35.

10 C. Released Claims.

11 Class Members who do not submit a complete, valid and timely Request for 12 Exclusion release the following Released Claims against the Released Parties:

13
14 all applicable wage and hour claims, rights, demands, liabilities, penalties, 15 fines, debts and causes of action of every nature and description, whether 16 known or unknown, arising from or related to the claims asserted in the Action 17 or that could have been asserted in the Plaintiffs’ Second Amended Complaint 18 to be filed pursuant to this Settlement based on the facts and circumstances 19 alleged therein, including claims based on California Labor Code sections 201, 20 202, 203, 204, 218.5, 218.6, 221-224, 226, 226.3, 226.7, 510, 512, 558, 1174, 21 1194, 1197, 2698 et seq., 2802, California Code of Regulations, Title 8 Section 22 11000 et seq., the applicable Industrial Welfare Commission (IWC) Wage 23 Orders, Business & Professions Code section 17200-17208 or any related 24 damages, penalties, restitution, disgorgement, interest or attorneys’ fees.

25 Members of the Expense Reimbursement Subclass who do not opt out also release 26 the following Released Subclass Claims:

27 all applicable wage and hour claims, rights, demands, liabilities, penalties, 28 fines, debts and causes of action of every nature and description, whether known or unknown, arising from or related to the claims asserted in the Action or that could have been asserted in the Plaintiffs’ Second Amended Complaint to be filed pursuant to this Settlement based on allegations of failure to reimburse for incurred business expenses, including claims based on California Labor Code sections 2802, 2698, et seq., Business &

1 Professions Code section 17200-17208 or any related damages, penalties, 2 restitution, disgorgement, interest or attorneys' fees.

3 In addition to the Released Claims above, Class/Subclass Members also 4 release Defendants from all known or unknown claims concerning the Released 5 Claims and/or Released Subclass Claims as set forth in paragraph 72 of the 6 Settlement Agreement. As part of the Settlement, the Named Plaintiffs are executing 7 a general release, including of all unknown claims, except as expressly reserved in 8 paragraph 71 of the Settlement Agreement. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 39.

9 VII. THE COURT SHOULD PRELIMINARILY APPROVE THE 10 CLASS ACTION SETTLEMENT AND SET A FINAL FAIRNESS HEARING

11 Class action settlements are subject to court review and approval under the 12 Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. A class action may not be dismissed, compromised, 13 or settled without the approval of the Court. FRCP Rule 23(e). The decision to 14 approve or reject a proposed settlement is committed to the Court's sound discretion.
15 Dunleavy v. Nadler, 213 F.3d 454, 458 (9th Cir.2000), citing Linney v. Cellular 16 Alaska Partnership, 151 F.3d 1234, 1238 (9th Cir. 1998).

17 This procedure safeguards Class Members' due process rights and enables the 18 Court to fulfill its role as the guardian of class interests. See Alba Conte & Herbert 19 Newberg, 4 Newberg on Class Actions (2002) ("Newberg"), §§ 11.22, et seq. The 20 purpose of the Court's preliminary evaluation of the proposed Settlement is to 21 determine whether it is within the "range of reasonableness," and whether notice to 22 the Class and a formal fairness hearing are appropriate. See Newberg § 11.25.

23 At this stage, the Court is not making a final determination on whether the 24 settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate, as is ultimately required by FRCP Rule 25 23(e). Rather, the Court need only decide whether the settlement "appears to fall 26 within the range of possible approval." Armstrong v. Bd. of Sch. Directors, 616 F.2d 27 305, 314 (7th Cir. 1980), overruled on other grounds by Felzen v. Andreas, 134 F.3d
28 873 (7th Cir. 1998); see also Berry v. School Dist. of City of Benton Harbor, 184
F.R.D. 93, 97 (W.D. Mich. 1998) (the court first must determine "whether the

1 proposed settlement is potentially approvable”); In re Mid-Atlantic Toyota Antitrust
2 Litig., 564 F. Supp. 1379, 1384 (D. Md. 1983) (likening preliminary approval to a 3 finding there is “probable cause” to submit the settlement to the class and to hold a 4 full-scale final approval hearing); Newberg § 11.25. “The settlement need only be 5 potentially fair, as the Court will make a final determination of its adequacy at the 6 hearing on Final Approval.” Acosta v. Trans Union, LLC, 243 F.R.D. 377, 386 (C.D.
7 Cal. 2007) (emphasis in original).

8 Courts must give “proper deference” to settlement agreements, because “the 9 court’s intrusion upon what is otherwise a private consensual agreement negotiated 10 between the parties to a lawsuit must be limited to the extent necessary to reach a 11 reasoned judgment that the agreement is not the product of fraud or overreaching by, 12 or collusion between the negotiating parties, and the settlement, taken as a whole, is 13 fair, reasonable and adequate to all concerned.” Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 14 1011, 1027 (9th Cir. 1988) (citations omitted.) There is a presumption of fairness “if 15 the settlement is recommended by class counsel after arm’s-length bargaining.” 16 Wren v. RGIS Inventory Specialists, 2011 WL 1230826, at *6 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 1, 17 2011). There is also “a strong judicial policy that favors settlements, particularly 18 where complex class action litigation is concerned.” In re Syncor ERISA Litig., 516 19 F.3d 1095, 1101 (9th Cir. 2008).

20 Courts act within their discretion in approving settlements which are fair, not 21 collusive, and take into account “all the normal perils of litigation as well as the 22 additional uncertainties inherent in complex class actions.” In re Beef Industry
23 Antitrust Litigation, 607 F. 2d 167, 179 (5th Cir. 1979), cert. den. sub nom. Iowa Beef
24 Processors, Inc. v. Meat Price Investigators Ass’n, 452 U.S. 905 (1981). Where a 25 settlement is reached on terms agreeable to all Parties, a court should disapprove of 26 the settlement “only with considerable circumspection.” Jamison v. Butcher &
27 Sherrerd, 68 F.R.D. 479, 481 (E.D. Pa. 1975).

28 The Court’s determination of whether a proposed settlement is fair, adequate,

1 and reasonable is often said to require a balancing of several factors. These factors 2 may include, among others: “the strength of plaintiff’s case; the risk, expense, 3 complexity, and the likely duration of further litigation; the risk of maintaining class 4 action status throughout the trial; the amount offered in settlement; the extent of 5 discovery completed, and the stage of the proceedings; the experience and views of 6 counsel; the presence of a governmental participant; and the reaction of the class
7 members to the proposed settlement. This list is not exclusive and different factors 8 may predominate in different factual contexts.” Torrise v. Tucson Elec. Power Co., 8 9 F.3d 1370, 1376 (9th Cir. 1993) (citation and internal quotations omitted.) Applying 10 these factors to this case, the proposed Settlement is “fair, adequate and reasonable.”

11 A. Strength of Plaintiffs’ Case and the Risk, Expense, Complexity and 12 Likely Duration of Further Litigation.

13 While Plaintiffs believe in the merits of their case, they also recognize the 14 inherent risks and uncertainty of litigation, including that the Class/Subclass could 15 receive nothing, and understand the benefit of providing a significant settlement sum 16 now. The specific risks include: (i) denial of certification; (ii) if class certification 17 were granted, that Court may later decertify the Class; (iii) the possibility of the 18 enforceability of the arbitration agreement and class action waiver; (iv) the possibility 19 of a motion to strike or dismiss the PAGA claims; (v) the possibility of an 20 unfavorable, or less favorable, result at trial; (vi) the possibility post-trial motions 21 may result in an unfavorable, or less favorable, result at trial; and, (vii) the possibility 22 of an unfavorable, or less favorable result on appeal, and the certainty that process 23 would be protracted and expensive for both sides. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 46-47.

24 Plaintiffs’ claims involve highly contested complex legal issues and fact-25 specific arguments which the Parties have intensively litigated since inception of the 26 action. While Plaintiffs firmly believe in the strength of their claims, NMG has strong 27 defenses to Plaintiff’s claims, and those defenses create a possibility that the claims 28 might not be certified or fail on the merits. Id., ¶ 49.

1 Plaintiffs alleged that Class members were required to work hours for which 2 they were not compensated both on and off the clock, giving rise to minimum wage 3 and overtime claims. In addition, among other things, Plaintiffs alleged that NMG:
4 failed to pay at least minimum wage for each hour worked, including non-sales time 5 like rest periods and hours when the store was closed to the public; failed to 6 compensate commissioned employees for all time that employees were under NMG's 7 control performing non-sales related activities or when employees were on rest 8 breaks; made unlawful deductions from earned wages; failed to properly calculate 9 and pay overtime compensation in accordance with California law; failed to provide 10 legally compliant meal periods and rest breaks to all non-exempt sales associates; 11 failed to provide accurate wage statements and maintain records; and failed to 12 compensate necessary expenses. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 50.

13 NMG presented arguments and defenses to all contentions made by Plaintiffs 14 as to certification, liability, and damages. In addition to arguing that the issues raised 15 by Plaintiffs required individualized inquiries not appropriate for class certification, 16 NMG argued most significantly that Plaintiffs could not pursue claims on a class-17 wide basis because they, and the entire workforce, were subject to enforceable 18 arbitration agreements including class action waivers. See, Epic Systems Corp v.
19 Lewis, 138 S. Ct. 1612 (2018). Hawkins ¶ 47.

20 As to Plaintiffs' minimum wage and overtime and derivative claims, NMG 21 contended that its sales employees are properly compensated for all regular and 22 overtime hours worked, presented evidence that its policies and practices prohibit 23 off-the-clock work and require all employees to accurately record all hours worked, 24 and argued that Plaintiffs' interpretation of "sales activity" was factually incorrect
25 and legally insupportable. NMG additionally argued that all activities that employees 26 were engaged in were related closely enough to sales that all hours worked would be 27 compensated with commissions, and that its compensation practices did not result in 28 unlawful wage deductions. NMG also presented evidence that employees were given

1 some autonomy in scheduling appointments with clients during shifts and that when 2 employees were on shift but not actively meeting with clients, there was sales work 3 they were expected to, and did, perform. NMG argued that even if the more 4 expansive view of “sales activities” were adopted, the individual experiences of 5 employees varies too much for class treatment. Hawkins ¶ 51.

6 Plaintiffs further contended that rest periods should be separately compensated
7 as non-productive time and that the failure to do so subjected NMG to rest period
8 penalties. NMG argued, even if separate compensation were required (which it 9 contested), this would not support imposition of the rest period premium pay penalty.
10 NMG further argued that rest periods were specifically authorized and permitted, and 11 that if an employee did not take a rest period then such time was productive time and 12 did not need to be separately paid. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 52.

13 Plaintiffs also argued that meals and rest breaks were not provided to 14 employees as a function of NMG’s scheduling and staffing policies. NMG argued 15 that the meal and rest period policies in place during the Class Period were lawful 16 and that sales associates were provided training concerning California meal and rest 17 break requirements. NMG further contended that if employees missed meal or rest 18 breaks, it was a matter of personal choice as meal and rest breaks were always made 19 available to Class members. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 53.

20 Plaintiffs’ reimbursement claim largely related to alleged unpaid mileage.
21 NMG contended that it is not necessary for sales associates to incur mileage 22 expenditures in carrying out their job duties and provided evidence there was limited, 23 if any, need for the use of personal vehicles, and that NMG provided courier services 24 to use to conduct business. NMG also provided evidence that the Company policy in 25 the relevant time period provided for reimbursement of business expenses and a 26 procedure for submitting reimbursement requests; and to the extent a claim for 27 reimbursement existed, it would have been paid if requested by a Class Member.
28 Hawkins Decl. ¶ 54.

1 NMG also contended that a court would not award waiting time penalties
2 under Labor Code § 203 in connection with Plaintiffs’ claim for failure to timely pay 3 wages at termination. Labor Code § 203 provides for an award of waiting time 4 penalties only when an employer “willfully fails to pay” all wages owed at time of 5 termination (Lab. Code § 203), and a “good faith dispute that any wages are due” 6 will preclude imposition of waiting time penalties under Section 203. 8 Cal. Code 7 Regs. § 13520. A “good faith dispute” exists when an employer presents a defense, 8 based in law or fact, that would preclude recovery by the employee. The fact that a 9 defense is ultimately unsuccessful will not preclude a finding that a good faith dispute 10 did exist. Id. NMG argued that it properly paid employees all wages due during 11 employment and upon termination and, to the extent any wages were unpaid at 12 termination (which it denied), it asserted legal and factual defenses that would 13 establish a good faith dispute, thereby precluding any award of penalties.

14 Proceeding with litigation would impose a significant risk of no recovery for 15 the Class/Subclass. If Settlement were not achieved, continued litigation would take 16 substantial time and possibly confer no benefit on Class Members. Indeed, in light of 17 the United States Supreme Court’s ruling in Epic Systems Corp. v. Lewis, 138 S.Ct.
18 1612 (2018), should this case continue the arbitration issue will be the subject of 19 extensive additional motion practice and appeals. This is only one of many hurdles 20 Plaintiffs will have to navigate to obtain class-wide relief. By contrast, the Settlement 21 will yield a prompt, certain, and substantial recovery for Class Members, which also 22 benefits the Parties and the Court. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 46-48, 70-72.

23 In light of these uncertainties, the Parties agreed to a compromise, non-24 reversionary settlement of $4,400,000. This recovery is certain and substantial for 25 absent class members.

26 1. The Extent of Discovery and Stage of the 27 Proceedings Support the Settlement.

28 As shown by the litigation and discovery histories, the parties have engaged in 1 sufficient investigation and discovery to support the Settlement. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 42.

2 This litigation has reached the stage where the parties have a clear view of the 3 strengths and weaknesses of their cases sufficient to support the Settlement. Boyd v.
4 Bechtel Corp., 485 F. Supp. 610, 622 (N.D. Cal. 1979).

5 With exhaustive discovery completed, thousands of documents reviewed and 6 analyzed, a motion for class certification pending, pre-trial dates looming, and three 7 days of mediation and focused follow-up with mediator Rotman, the procedural 8 history of this case strongly supports settlement.

9 2. The Settlement is the Product of Serious,
10 Informed, Non-Collusive Negotiations; Class
11 Counsel are Experienced in Similar Litigation.

12 “In the Ninth Circuit, a Court affords a presumption of fairness to a settlement, 13 if: ‘(1) the negotiations occurred at arm’s length; (2) there was sufficient discovery 14 to allow counsel to act and the Court to review their actions in an informed manner; 15 (3) the proponents of the settlement are experienced in similar litigation; and (4) only 16 a small fraction of the class objected.’” Rodriguez v. West Publishing Corp., No. CV-17 05-3222 R(MCx) 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 74849 at 33 (C.D. Cal. Sept. 10, 2007). The 18 first three factors are clearly met, and the fourth must be evaluated after preliminary 19 approval and notice to the Class.

20 As to the first and second factors, based on the detailed history provided, there 21 is no question that the proposed Settlement was a product of adversarial litigation 22 reached through a compromise of disputed claims based on substantial exchange of 23 information, exhaustive analysis, extensive investigation, three days of arm’s-length 24 negotiations before a respected mediator with expertise in the management and 25 resolution of similar cases, and months of continued negotiations. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 26 22-28.

27 As to the third factor, experienced counsel, operating at arm’s-length, have 28 weighed the strengths of the case and examined all of the issues and risks of litigation

1 and endorse the proposed Settlement. The view of the attorneys actively conducting 2 the litigation “is entitled to significant weight” in deciding whether to approve the 3 settlement. Fisher Bros. v. Cambridge Lee Industries, Inc. (E.D. Pa. 1985) 630
4 F.Supp. 482, 488; Ellis v. Naval Air Rework Facility (N.D. Cal. 1980) 87 F.R.D. 15, 5 18, aff’d. 661 F.2d 939 (9th Cir. 1981). “The recommendations of plaintiffs’ counsel 6 should be given a presumption of reasonableness” In re Omnivision Technologies, 7 Inc., (N.D. Cal. 2007), 559 F. Supp. 2d 1036, 1043. Here, Class Counsel has 8 significant experience in litigating minimum wage, rest and meal period and expense 9 reimbursement cases, and other wage and hour class cases and have obtained 10 certification in many such cases. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 43, 74. Likewise, Defendant’s 11 counsel of Jones Day, are also well experienced in wage and hour employment law 12 and class actions.

13 Class Counsel, having prosecuted numerous wage and hour class actions are 14 experienced and qualified to evaluate the Class claims and to evaluate the risks and 15 potential outcome of further litigation and the propriety of settlement on a fully 16 informed basis. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 74.

17 Counsel on both sides share the view this is a fair and reasonable settlement 18 in light of the complexities of the case, the state of the law, and of the uncertainties 19 of the outcome of litigation. The opinion of counsel in support of the proposed 20 Settlement is based on a realistic assessment of the strengths and weaknesses of their 21 respective cases, extensive legal and factual research, the substantial discovery 22 detailed above, as well as consideration of the potential and pending law and motion 23 resulting in potential dispositive rulings by the Court. The opinion of counsel is also 24 based on an assessment of the risks of proceeding with the litigation through trial 25 and, if a verdict were recovered, through appeal as compared to the value of a 26 settlement at this time. Given the risks inherent in litigation and the defenses asserted, 27 this Settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable and in the best interests of the class, 28 and should be preliminarily approved. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 45.

1                   B. The Proposed Settlement is a Reasonable Compromise of Claims.

2                   Plaintiffs' Counsel believes the proposed Settlement is in the best interest of 3 the Class based on detailed knowledge of the factual and legal issues present in this 4 action. Counsel considered, among other issues, the risks of an adverse class 5 certification or summary judgment ruling, an appeal or reconsideration motion ruling 6 on the individual arbitration issues, and the risks of trial and other perils of litigation 7 that affect the value of the claims in reaching the proposed Settlement. Hawkins Decl.
8 ¶ 46, 70-71.

9                   The nature of Plaintiffs' claims is Section VI.A. herein. Plaintiffs and 10 Plaintiffs' Counsel have given serious consideration to all facts and arguments they 11 face in this matter, and have concluded that the terms and amount of the Settlement 12 are fair and reasonable. The GSA constitutes 19.5% of the total realistic liability 13 exposure that Plaintiffs' counsel estimated Defendants faced for the main thrust of 14 Plaintiffs' claims – minimum wage and meal/rest period and derivative violations – 15 duly considering Defendants' contentions and defenses. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 70. While 16 Plaintiffs assert the class claims are suitable for class certification and adjudication 17 as they believe they result from company-wide policies and practices which caused 18 the Class/Subclass Members to endure common alleged violations, Defendants have 19 denied and continue to deny that this matter is amenable to class certification for any 20 purpose other than this Settlement. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 46, 47, 49. In addition, there is 21 the very real possibility that any classwide relief could be defeated by NMG's 22 arbitration agreements in light of Epic Systems. Id. See Hawkins Decl. ¶¶ 50-66, 23 submitted herewith, for extensive discussion of valuation of claims.

24                   Given these risks and the risk of losing at certification, trial, or on appeal, and 25 the time and resource commitment it would entail, the Settlement amount is 26 reasonably balanced with the strength of Plaintiffs' claims to provide a fair recovery 27 on behalf of the class. See, e.g., Nat'l Rural Telecomm. Coop. v. DIRECTV, Inc., 221 28 F.R.D. 523, 528 (C.D. Cal. 2004) ("in balancing, "a proposed settlement is not to be

1 judged against a speculative measure of what might have been awarded in a judgment 2 in favor of the class.”) (citation omitted.)

3 As discussed above, NMG asserted multiple defenses and expressly denied 4 and continues to deny any wrongdoing or legal liability arising out of any of the facts
5 or conduct alleged in the Action. Plaintiffs’ counsel analyzed the merits of the class
6 and representative claims, and each one presented significant hurdles. The recovery 7 of $4,400,000 confers substantial benefits to the class, considering the significant 8 risks of further litigation, the potential the claims may be compelled to individual 9 arbitration, the potential the class may not be certified, the risks of maintaining class 10 action status through trial and after appeal, the potential that the representative claims 11 would be unmanageable, the risk of an adverse ruling on summary judgment, the risk 12 Plaintiffs would not prevail at trial, or would not obtain all damages claimed, the 13 delay and duration of appeals. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 46.

14 A settlement is not judged solely against what might have been recovered had 15 plaintiff prevailed at trial, nor does the settlement have to provide 100% of the 16 damages sought to be fair and reasonable. Linney v. Cellular Alaska Partnership, 151 17 F. 3d 1234, 1242 (9th Cir. 1998). The adequacy of the amount recovered must be 18 judged as “a yielding of absolutes. . . Naturally, the agreement reached normally 19 embodies a compromise; in exchange for the saving of cost and elimination of risk, 20 the parties each give up something they might have won had they proceeded with 21 litigation . . .” Officers for Justice v. Civil Serv. Comm’n, 688 F.2d 615, 624 (9th Cir.
22 1982) (citation omitted). “It is well-settled law that a cash settlement amounting to 23 only a fraction of the potential recovery does not . . . render the settlement inadequate 24 or unfair.” Id. at 628; see also In re Omnivision Technologies, Inc., 2007 U.S. Dist 25 LEXIS 95616, *21 (N.D. Cal. 2007), noting that certainty of recovery in settlement 26 of 6% of maximum potential recovery after reduction for attorney’s fees was higher 27 than median percentage for recoveries in shareholder class action settlements, 28 averaging 2.2%-3% from 2002 through 2006.) Accordingly, the proposed Settlement

1 is not to be judged against a speculative measure of what might have been achieved.
2 Linney v. Cellular Alaska Partnership, 151 F. 3d 1234.

3 In light of all the information provided above, the proposed Settlement 4 reflects substantial recovery for the Class and is well within the “ballpark” of 5 reasonableness and should be granted preliminary approval. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 71.

6 VIII. CLASS COUNSEL’S ATTORNEYS’ FEES REQUEST AND 7 CLASS REPRESENTATIVE PAYMENTS.

8 Class Counsel will file a motion requesting reimbursement of their litigation 9 expenses of up to $140,000 and an award of fees not to exceed $1,466,666.67
10 (33.33% of GSA). The motion for attorneys’ fees and costs will detail the hours 11 expended and litigation expenses advanced.

12 Class representatives “are eligible for reasonable incentive payments. The 13 district court must evaluate their awards individually, using ‘relevant factors 14 including the actions the plaintiff has taken to protect the interests of the class, the 15 degree to which the class had benefitted from those actions, the amount of time and 16 effort the plaintiff in pursuing the litigation.’” Staton v. Boeing Corp., 327 F.3d 938, 17 977 (9th Cir. 2003) [citations and internal alterations omitted]. Accordingly, Class 18 Counsel will request on behalf of Plaintiffs, $7,000 each to Plaintiffs Attia,
19 Eshaghbeigi, Girard, Kelley, Nguyen, and Romero, and $5,000 each to Plaintiffs 20 Basti, Marconi, and Tolbert for their time, effort, risks undertaken for the payment 21 of costs in the event this action had been unsuccessful, possible retaliation by 22 potential employers, and for a general release of all claims. The requested service 23 payments are fair and reasonable because Plaintiffs were instrumental in achieving 24 the settlement in this case. Plaintiffs invested a great deal of personal time and effort 25 into the investigation, prosecution, and the settlement of the case, as will be set forth 26 in their declarations to be filed in conjunction with the motion for final approval of 27 class action settlement. Hawkins Decl.¶ 74. See, e.g., Singer v. Becton Dickinson &
28 Co., 2010 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 53416 at *24-26 (S.D. Cal. June 1, 2010) (“The $25,000

1 incentive award is ... well within the acceptable range awarded in similar cases.”]; 2 and Van Vranken v. Atlantic Richfield Co., 901 F. Supp. 294, 299 (N.D. Cal. 1995) 3 (same).

4 IX. THE PROPOSED CLASS AND SUBCLASS SHOULD BE 5 CONDITIONALLY CERTIFIED

6 A. All Rule 23(a) Prerequisites for Certification Are Present

7 The Court has the authority to certify a provisional settlement class at the time
8 of preliminary approval. See Amchem Prods., Inc. v. Windsor, 521 U.S. 591, 620 9 (1997). In determining whether a class should be certified, the court is bound to take 10 the substantive allegations of the complaint as true. See Blackie v. Barrack, 524 F.2d 11 891, 901 n.17 (9th Cir. 1975). A proposed settlement class is still subject to the 12 requirements of FRCP Rule 23(a) and (b) which are “designed to protect absentees 13 by blocking unwarranted or overbroad class definitions.” Amchem, 521 U.S. at 620.
14 However, “[c]onfronted with a request for settlement-only class certification, a 15 district court need not inquire whether the case, if tried, would present intractable 16 management problems, Fed. Rule Civ. Proc. 23(b)(3)(D), for the proposal is that 17 there be no trial.” Id.

18 1. Rule 23(a)(1) —Numerosity

19 There are an estimated 2,086 putative Class/Subclass Members. Hawkins 20 Decl., ¶ 20. This exceeds any standard for numerosity.

21 2. Rule 23(a)(2) —Commonality

22 The commonality preconditions of Rule 23(a)(2) are “construed 23 permissively.” See Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 1019 (9th Cir. 1998).
24 Commonality does not require “that every question of law or fact must be common 25 to the class; all that Rule 23(a)(2) requires is ‘a single significant question of law or 26 fact.’” Abdullah v. U.S. Sec. Associates, Inc., 731 F.3d 952, 957 (9th Cir.
27 2013)(quoting Mazza v. Am. Honda Motor Co., 666 F.3d 581, 589 (9th Cir. 2012).
28 Here, Plaintiffs allege Defendant applied uniform policies, including those on

1 compensation for hours worked, meals, rest breaks, and reimbursements, to all 2 employees paid commissions in California. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 80.

4 3. Rule 23(a)(3) —Typicality

5 Under the Rule’s “permissive standards,” the representative Plaintiffs’ claims 6 are “typical” if they are “reasonably co-extensive with those of absent class 7 members.” Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1020. Plaintiffs’ claims arise from a common 8 source—NMG’s uniform employment practices including NMG’s practice of short-9 staffing its retail stores and of not paying commissioned employees separately for 10 non-productive time. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 81. Plaintiffs’ claims are based on identical 11 legal theories and aligned with those of the putative Class and Subclass. See Ventura
v. New York City Health and Hosp., Inc., 125 F.R.D. 595, 600 (S.D.N.Y. 1989).

12 4. Rule 23(a)(4)—Adequacy of Representation

13 Adequacy requirements are established on the basis that the proposed Class 14 Representatives have no conflict of interest with other Class/Subclass Members and 15 are represented by qualified counsel. Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1020; Hawkins Decl., ¶ 75, 16 82. Plaintiffs’ counsel is well-situated to assume the responsibilities of Class Counsel 17 because they are experienced employment and class action litigators who are fully 18 qualified to pursue the interests of the Class/Subclass. Id.

19 B. Rule 23(b)(3) —Predominance and Superiority

20 The predominance inquiry focuses on the relationship between the common 21 and individual issues, testing whether the proposed classes are sufficiently cohesive 22 to warrant adjudication by representation. See Amchem Products, Inc., 521 U.S. at 23 623. Plaintiffs identified several questions of law and fact common to their claims 24 and to those of the putative Class/Subclass and provide a justification for handling 25 the dispute on a representative rather than individual basis. Hawkins Decl. ¶ 81. Class 26 treatment is also the superior method for resolving all claims and would (1) 27 accomplish judicial economy by avoiding multiple suits, and (2) protect the rights of 28 persons who might not be able to present claims on an individual basis. See generally

1 Crown, Cork & Seal Co. v. Parker, 462 U.S. 345 (1983).

2 X. CONCLUSION

3 Plaintiffs respectfully request the Court preliminarily approve the proposed 4 Settlement, and set a final approval hearing date and a hearing date for Plaintiffs' 5 request for attorneys' fees, enhancement payments, and litigation costs.

7 Respectfully submitted,
